

Regarding Doping Control at Tour de Kumano 2013

Regarding the doping control conducted at "Tour de Kumano 2013" (30 May - 2 June), there were some comments written on internet sites as if a doping control target was changed for some cyclist in response to a coach's request to catch a flight.

The doping control for this competition was authorised by UCI with the result management responsibility, while JADA was a testing authority. JADA investigated the issue by inquiring all the relevant people who were involved in the doping control. It has been confirmed that the doping control went along with the doping control rules and there was no fact that the participating team contacted or requested for change of the doping control target.

JADA will, in accordance with the anti-doping rules, continue advancing the integrity of sport and the Play True spirit.
